YORK, PENN., April 15.—Sixteen miles West of Port Jervis, a broken rail threw a train of cars down twenty feet embankment; thirteen persons killed and fifty-two wounded; seven were burned beyond recognition. No Southerners.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—An influential meeting, in the interest of Hancock for President, and Hendricks, of Indiana, for Vice-President, occurs in Philadelphia next week. It is understood that Pennsylvania will present this ticket to the Convention.

The House went in a body to the impeachment court. The Speaker reserved the right, should the session of the court be brief, to make a regular call. The Senate resumed the consideration of unlimited speeches, but postponed the matter indefinitely. In the absence of Stanbery, the defence proceeded with documentary evidence.

The President's counsel had it pretty much their own way this afternoon. The impeachers show palpable signs of discouragement.

President Johnson unveiled the statue on the Lincoln monument. Grant was on the side-walk, having declined to appear on the stand.

A deficiency of $40,000 has been discovered in Forney's account. It is intimated that Forney's clerk was wrongly charged.

A FRIEND OF LADIES OF CURIOSITY. A Philadelphian has invented and constructed an ingenious device, by which persons sitting inside their own houses can see everything that is passing on in the street, not only in front of their doors, but for many squares in both directions and on both sides of the street. It is a simple arrangement of two mirrors, placed at right angles to each other, and set in a tin or other case or frame. It is designed to be set in one of the second-story chamber windows, and can be used while the blinds are down. Placed in the proper position, it will even show who is at the front door bell, a matter of no small convenience in these days of troublesome peddlers, importunate beggars and intruders generally. But its most interesting employment is for the use of invalids, who cannot look out the window, and who would like the monotony of the sick room to be relieved by a sight of what is going on in the street. For this use it is admirable. It is called the "window reflector," and is both simple in construction and inexpensive in cost.

DEAD.—We learn that on the morning of the 9th inst., Mr. Justin Turner was found dead in the yard of W. H. Walker, in this town. Mr. Turner was an old citizen, being about eighty years of age. The verdict of a jury of inquest was, that he came to his death by exposure during the coldness of the night, and through intoxication.

THE RICHMOND MEDICAL JOURNAL. We extract the following notice of this valuable medical work, from the Richmond Dispatch:

"It is very gratifying to Southern people, as well as the faculty, that so able a periodical is printed here. It is an invaluable adjunct to Southern practice and to the exertions to form an enlightened and prosperous school here, which become a high authority in general science and develop thoroughly the peculiar types of diseases in the South. We appeal to the patriotism and pride of Southern physicians to sustain this work; not merely because it is a Southern work, but because, in addition to this, it is the largest and best medical monthly published in the United States, as is admitted by the press generally, North and South, which has noticed it. This enterprise must be fostered; and as one of its most important supports, the Journal should be most liberally sustained."

NEGRO RULE.—The following is a picture drawn by a Northern radical newspaper, of the negro rule in St. Domingo, after they have had fifty years of experience as rulers of about the fairest spot on earth:

The latest news from St. Domingo, is that the country is in anarchy, and the prisons are full. Of course there must be some sort of governing force in existence to keep the prisons full; but this is probably about the full extent of its power. It is painful to see such a rich and charming part of the world given up to ruin and savagery. It is grievous to see the control of such a country in the hands of such a people. But we see no help for it. And we may rest satisfied that if there be any lower depths of human degradation than that which they have reached, it will not require them many years to sink to it. If the population would resort to cannibalism, and devour each other out of existence, it would probably be the best thing that could happen.

SOUTHERN MURDERS.—WHO COMMIT THEM?—Whenever any radical firebrand, loyal leaguer or negro is killed or hurt in the South, the radical press and orators of the North make a terrible noise about it. They ring the changes and howl day after day about rebel outrages, rebel hatred and rebel murderers, but we never hear anything from them concerning the murdered Southern whites and black outrages. The radical papers are full of sensation accounts and denunciations of the murder of Ashburn, in Georgia, but they say nothing about the white one-armed ex-Confederate soldier who was shot dead on his horse recently near Selma, Alabama, or of the other four white men who have been murdered in the same vicinity since the war, and no one arrested for these murders. No, we hear nothing from these radicals of the numerous other murders of the conquered Southern whites and outrages on them in other localities of the South, because there is every reason to believe this is the work of the black loyal leaguers. At a public procession and meeting of negroes at Macon, Georgia, on March 30, the "loyal blacks" carried a banner, on which the figure of a negro, cut in pasteboard, hung dangling from a gallows, and to which was attached, on a piece of white paper, the following inscription: "Every man that don't vote a radical ticket, this is the way we want to do him—hang him by the neck." These radical loyal league negroes boldly proclaimed, too, that the negro who failed to register, should receive thirty-nine lashes; if he failed to vote at the election, 200 lashes, and if he voted the Democratic ticket, he should be hanged. Need we be surprised, then, that white Southerners are murdered in every part of the South, and that the murderers are not arrested? The Northern friends of the black barbarians pretend not to know anything about their murderous doings. It is clear that the South under radical rule is fast tending to anarchy, and to a worse condition than St. Domingo was ever in.

[New York Herald.]

Dr. Arnold once lost patience with a dull scholar, when the pupil looked up in his face and said: "Why do you speak so angrily, sir? Indeed, I am doing the best I can." Years after the Doctor used to tell the story to his children, and say: "I never felt so ashamed in my life. That look and that speech I have never forgotten."

The Jews are everywhere noted for their kindness to their own people. It is against Jewish principles to allow any of their poor to come upon the public. All the sick in poverty are cared for, and provision is made for widows and orphans. Efficient societies, liberally provided with funds, supply the poor with food, help the old people as they need, and bury the dead. Some of the free hospitals in London have Jewish wards, but all the expenses of those wards are paid for from the treasury of Jewish organizations. If any able-bodied persons are out of employment and need help, they receive no gratuity, but are accommodated with a temporary loan, and the cases are said to be rare in which these debts are not fully repaid.

Miss Flirt for a masquerade party is raving. But not so her love, who is inclined to be saving; Says he cannot afford it, the costume's too dear—"Can't afford it, indeed," says Miss F., with a sneer; "With such meanness as that, I'll never agree, And this masquerade party will cost—u-me."

A lady who was married on Friday, when asked why she consummated such important business on such an unlucky day, responded, that she had been married on every other day in the week, and had always made such a poor fist of it, that she had concluded to test haugman's day, hoping the halter wouldn't slip this time.

Mr. Schwabe, a German astronomer, has discovered greenish belts, which appear and disappear periodically, in the moon. These belts, he thinks, indicate vegetation. If this be established, it will afford a presumptive evidence of the moon's habitability.

HOMICIDES.—A white man, named K. Moore, had a difficulty with a colored man, near Georgetown, on the 14th, which resulted in the death of the latter. On the same day, a white man named Martin was killed by a negro, at Owen's Cross Roads, on the Savannah Railroad.

A diminutive attorney, named Else, once asked Jekyll, "Sir, I hear you have called me a pettifogging scoundrel?" "No, sir, I never said you were a pettifogger or a scoundrel; but I did say you were little Else."

A murderous affray occurred at Hempstead, Texas, on Sunday last, in which three white men were killed, and two whites and two negroes wounded. The affray was in sequence of a murder committed on the previous Friday.

An English convict, who has "done" fifteen years penal servitude, for firing a wheat stack, has been committed for trial for a similar offence. He gave himself up to the police, saying he would rather be in prison than starve.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's income last year, as reported by the tax collector, was $38,248. That includes his profits on "Norwood" and other literary labor outside of his ministerial duties.

According to the World, the difference between the Parliamentary rump and the Congressional rump is, that whereas the former was after Charles' head, the latter is after Johnson's seat.

Galligan's Messenger prints a notice of the birth of a son to J. Smith, in Paris, with the request that New York and Chicago papers copy. Thousands will rejoice at the news.

A woman named Catharine Robinson, who was arrested in New York, with a dead infant in her arms, Thursday, was locked up in a cell with the dead child, in the station house, and kept there all night.

A new book is about being issued in London, containing the history of costume from the earliest to modern times. It is called the "Corset and the Crinoline." No doubt but what it will be found full of charms.
